DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Pocholle et al (5,173,910). Pocholle discloses the claimed invention. Note the solid state gain medium (1), a semiconductor laser pump (2.0, 2.1, ..., 2.n), and a power supply (7). Regarding how the laser is operated, attention is directed to MPEP 2114 where it is stated that the manner of operating the device does not differentiate the apparatus claim from the prior art.

3. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Chang et al (5,978,407). Chang discloses the claimed invention. Note the solid state element (34), the pump diodes(30), and the power supply (via the electrical connections), the diffusive reflector and waveguide (24).

Regarding how the laser is operated, attention is directed to MPEP 2114 where it is stated that the manner of operating the device does not differentiate the apparatus claim from the prior art.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pochelle in view of Marshall et al (5,982,789). Pochelle has been discussed above except for the rectangular cross-section of the solid state medium (1) or the cooling plate. Marshall shows that a cooling plate (12) is known for removing heat from the solid state medium (1). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Pochelle by employing a cooling plate, as taught by Marshall, for the advantageous benefit of providing heat sinking to the solid state medium and allow long, stable operation. Regarding the rectangular cross-section, It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to employ the rectangular cross-section, since applicant has not disclosed that rectangular cross-section solves any stated problem or is for any particular purpose and it appears that the prior art would perform equally well with rectangular cross-section.
